Oh, make me pure: I would not wear These deep'ning stains of guilt: Oh, let me breathe Thy purer air, And cleanse me if Thou wilt. It is to Thee to Thee alone-

My leprous soul doth cry: Le! at the footstool of Thy throne, In penitence I lie. Jesus, but say the words, "Be clean," And I will wash and live: Then all my life for Thee Pli glean,

To Thee its service give. 'Tis all I have-'tis little worth-Yet all, Lord, I bring: Lift from my struggling soul the earth That I thy praise may sing.

Oh, make me clean, and I shall be Fair in Thy loving eyes; Oh, make me pure, that I may see Thy glory in the skies That I, too, may behold Thy face, And know Thee as Thou art; And hear, from Thy dear lips of grace, "Blest are the pure in heart."

Cuilen Lane vs. Kahn & Wolf, et al. THESE Instruments have been before the public for nearly thirty years, and upon their excellence alone, attained an unpurchased pre-eminence, which pronounces them unequaled. Their combines great power, sweetness and fine singing quality, as well as great purity of intonation and sweetness throughout the entire scale. Their is pliant and clastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many planos.

In this cause it appearing to the satisfaction of the Clerk and Master, from complainant's bill, which is sworn to, that the defendants, Abraham Kahn and Isaac Wolf, are non-residents of the State of Tengessee, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them: His therefore ordered that publication be made in the Jackson Whig and Tribune, for four successive weeks, commanding said non-resident defendants to appear before the Chancery Court, at its next Term, to be holden in Jackson, Tenn., on the 4th Monday in October, 1871, and plead, answer or demur to complainant's bill or the same will be taken for confessed, and set for hearing experts as to them.
